

Celebrating the Year

The women of ASWGC look forward to the end of the year awards luncheon. This is a time for current members and many past members to gather together reconnect and celebrate the accomplishments of our active members. After the cocktail hour the group settled in for lunch. Captain Jean Metz welcomed those in attendance. It was great to see Jean who has had several surgeries this past year and all of us look forward to her return to the course next year.

This was Judy Dwelle's first year as Tournament Chair and she did a great job her rookie year. Filling the shoes of Doreen Lewallen is a formidable task. Doreen was still available to run tournaments in Judy's absence, organize the 54-hole tournament and guest day. We are lucky to have both of these amazing women in our group.

Judy summarized some accomplishments of individual golfers this year:

- Mary Bulman's hole-in-one
- Chellie Peterson first eagle
- Diana Garbin broke 90 for first time
- Doreen Lewallen had a few rounds in the 70's

Judy Wood was thanked for organizing team play and Tish Buti handed out awards for the Eclectic Tournament.

Next were the annual awards. Diane Timko won closest to the pin with 8 inches. Diana Garbin was overall low net winner with a 63. Not surprising our low gross winner was Doreen Lewallen with a 79.

In an abbreviated 54-hole tournament due to weather Doreen Lewallen and Judy Dwelle were the winners.

Player of the year, an award that goes to the golfer who is most consistent on Captain's Trophy days throughout the year, went to Doreen Lewallen.

Our club championship was also impacted by weather. Normally a three day tournament but was shortened to a two day event. Winners in the first flight were Kristi Cochran with a 156 net score and Diane Timko second with a 160 net. Low gross winner with a score of 209 was Nancy Mitchell.

In the championship flight low net winner was Diana Garbin with a 136. Runner up gross winner, with a score of 181, was Judy Dwelle. The Club Champion for 2025, with a gross score of 170, was Doreen Lewallen.

The last award of the year goes to the most improved player. Starting the year with a 33.2 index Nancy Mitchell finished the year at 30.4 index making her the most improved player of the year.

Congratulations to Nancy and all the other winners.

Wishing everyone the merriest of holidays as we look forward to another year of good golf, fun and friendship in 2026.
